

James W. Miller, P.E.

Jim Miller, an expert in water resource and water supply issues, is the Engineering Superintendent at the City of Everett. He is Chair of Washington Water Utility Council (WWUC) Water Rights Committee. Mr. Miller led the Local Government Caucus in the Chelan Process working with state, tribal, and other water-related interests to develop a watershed approach for cooperatively solving regional water issues. He is the former Chair of the WWUC. He previously worked for Parametrix, Inc. as a Water Resources Program Manager, Federal Way water and Sewer District as a General Manager, and the Seattle Water Department as the Director of Water Management and Water Resources Manager. Mr. Miller has a Master of Science in Water Resource Management from the University of Washington, a Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering from Seattle University, and is a Registered Professional Engineer in Washington. His professional affiliations include American Water Works Association, American Society of Civil Engineers, American Water Resources Association, and Water Environment Federation.